

Rhombic fans in a string bag

In 3 dimensions most of the rhombuses become skew quadrilaterals. However, the 4 equal edges define a tetrahedron whose faces are isosceles triangles. There are two congruent pairs. This type of tetrahedron is called a digonal disphenoid.

